

Article Link

<https://news.brown.edu/articles/2016/09/mali>

Cost, not lack of information, is greatest barrier to basic health care

Brown University news site highlights the IPA study The Role of Fees and Information in Healthcare Decisions in Mali, which tested the theory that subsidies for health care are likely to cause overuse of medical care or unnecessary clinic visits that waste precious medical resources.

September 23, 2016