Probably the best Conference on African Economic Development in all of England

It's almost as if someone at Oxford thought "what is the best possible birthday present we could get for Lee? I know! Let's broadcast a debate about randomized controlled trials and structural models on the internet! Yeah! On his birthday!"* Or something.

All 4 plenary sessions from 20th-22nd will be going up live here featuring lots of very smart development folks including Paul Collier, Gabriel Demombynes, Michael Kremer, and David McKenzie.

*Note to co-workers - I will be very upset if there is no cake.
