

Article Link

<http://www.washingtonpost.com/business/capitalbusiness/to-alter-consumer-behavi...>

To alter consumer behavior, some companies reach out to academics

"[We] try to get a better understanding of what makes consumers tick," said Dartmouth College professor Jonathan Zinman, a behavioral economist who serves as an adviser to HelloWallet. "And basically the model research-wise is to try to come up with innovations that provide a win-win for the consumer. and the service provider."

April 03, 2011