

Date

April 21, 2010

Dean Karlan at USAID After Hours: "Microfinance: Learning what works, what doesn't, and why"

The USAID Microenterprise Development office presents MICROFINANCE LEARNING AND INNOVATIONS After Hours Seminar

Dean Karlan, Professor of Economics at Yale University and president of Innovations for Poverty Action, will speak on the topic of "Microfinance: Learning what works, what doesn't, and why".

Interested, but can't attend?

Register for the webinar and participate remotely! You can also participate by phone. Please note that the webinar will begin at 4:30pm EDT (8:30pm GMT).

Address

The QED Group, LLC, 1250 Eye St., NW, 11th floor, 20005

City

Washington D.C.

Country

United States